

give others access to your research

Why..

deposit your research in the university repository?

wide and rapid dissemination and access ease of access to fulltext academic research is more visible potential for increased citation persistent links for website publications list indexed by search engines and research hubs hit and download statistics for research use links to all of the researcher's work past and forthcoming publications variety of research, e.g. theses, papers, reports high quality research work

How..

to deposit your research
in the university repository?

organisational support assistance with deposit guidance with rights issues enriched description for indexing long term storage

Who or What..

can access your research
in the university repository?

Depositor checklist for ResearchArchive@VUW

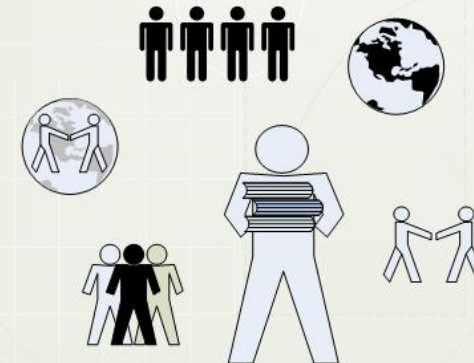

Keep your work
e.g. Preprints, postprints and final versions

Get in touch
With repository staff

Use the support
From repository staff

Deposit
Your research outputs

Benefit
From researchers getting greater access to your work

Digital Research Repository

Coordinator: Ingrid Mason
Email: ingrid.mason@vuw.ac.nz Phone: x6844